5 steps to finding an internship:

one Assess your interests and skills.
Consider what type of work you would like to do.

two Develop skills in networking, resume writing, and interviewing.

three Research your options. Generate a list of local employers that interest you.

four Approach employers directly to inquire about established internships OR to create an internship where one has not previously existed.

five Apply. Interview. Follow up.

Christoffer Hansen
Lamps by Hilliard Intern

Jessica Watson
District Attorney Intern

● GAIN EXPERIENCE

I gained a better understanding of how the criminal justice system works. This internship strengthened my desire to go to law school and become an attorney.

Jessica Watson
District Attorney Intern

I got to be a resource for people who want to heal and I gained insight into a non-profit organization.

Joanna Pollack
The Emma Center Intern

It is one thing to study how things are supposed to work, another to know how they are actually done.

Greg Paoli
Congressman Mike Thompson Intern

● FIND A CAREER DIRECTION

I can now see myself in a career field I had never imagined before.

Yvonne Sandoval
Target Executive Intern

● MAKE A DIFFERENCE

I got to work with an amazingly diverse group of people. This internship took me out of my comfort zone and reminded me of the issues I care so deeply about.
